AUTO PARTY IS SAVED BY A BOY

Youth Exhibits Presence of Mind by Cranking Machine When it
Went "Dead."

IN PATH OF I. & C. SPECIAL CAR

Men in Inspection Party Yesterday
Turn Heads Not Wishing to Witness Expected Collision.

It was only the rarest presence of mind on the part of a small boy that saved the inspection trip on the Shelbyville division of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction line which was attended by a dozen or more Rushville men from being marred by a very disastrous accident yesterday afternoon. The working of the new Simmen signal system was being exhibited.

It was on the return trip from Shelbyville to the junction, while the traction car was traveling at the approximate rate of seventy-five miles an hour, that an automobile, loaded with people, stopped on a crossing directly in the path of the on-rushing car.

The cool head and steady hand of a ten-year-old boy who rode in the back seat of the automobile saved the party from immediate death, for it is very likely that the six people would have been hurled into eternity in an instant if the automobile had not been backed off the track in the nick of time.

As the automobile pulled up on the road crossing the engine went "dead." Just then the traction car appeared over the brow of a hill not more than a thousand feet away and began to bear down at a terrible rate on the disconcerted party of automobilists.

But there was one member of the party, although he was only ten years old, who possessed more presence of mind than those of more mature years. He leaped from the back seat and with a few bounds was at the front of the automobile. One jerk of his small muscular arm at the crank set the engine in motion, the man at the wheel applied the reverse and the automobile scooted backward from whence it had come just as the traction car whizzed past.

Exclamations and gasps of horror were heard from the members of the inspection party when the traction car started its rapid descent down the hill and the disabled automobile appeared on the crossing ahead. Men turned white from fear and others crouched down in their seats not wishing to see the horrible scene which they believed was about to be enacted.

Motorman Kenneth Myers of Shelbyville exhibited rare coolness in such an emergency. He first applied the brakes to the car, but they would not have stopped the car in time to avert a collision, so he threw off the brakes and the power and then applied the reverse which slid the wheels of the traction car.

When the reverse was applied it caused such a noticeable change in the speed of the car that members of the inspection party thought the impact had come and that the people who were riding in the automobile had been killed. Several hesitated to look back at the horrible scene that they fully expected to behold.

Traction officials on the car said that the appliance of the reverse might have stopped the car within the distance between it and the crossing and thus averted the collision, but that it was barely possible.

Expressions of relief were common when the car had passed the crossing. The Rushville men, nine members of the city administration, two

LIGE STARTS OUT TO KILL POLICEMAN

Walters Hears of Pea's Threat and His Search For Shot Gun—
Locks Him Up.

HE PROMISED TO BE GOOD

Lige Pea is again. This morning, after he had promised Policeman John Walters to stay in bed and "sleep off" a drunk, he started down the railroad in bare feet and with few clothes on, in search of a shot gun with which he said he proposed to shoot the policeman. Walters heard of his threat and went out to arrest him. Lige made a vicious lunge at the policeman to strike him and Walters responded with two "love" taps on the head with his leather mace. Lige measured his length on the cinders along the railroad track. The policeman was first called to Lige's home to quiet him because he was threatening to drive his family from home. Lige promised to remain in bed if he was not arrested.

INSPECT PUMPS AT SHELBYVILLE

A. T. Mahin of This City and Con-nersville City Attorney Make Trip For That Purpose.

NEW PUMPS PURCHASED THERE

A. T. Mahin, superintendent of the city water and light plant, and L. L. Broadus, city attorney of Connersville, were in Shelbyville yesterday afternoon to see the new pumps that have been purchased there. Connersville, as well as Rushville is interested in obtaining more water this summer. It depends largely on the well system for its water supply as does this city. The pumps at Shelbyville were said to be built according to a late approved invention and the Rushville and Connersville officials were anxious to see how they work. Mr. Mahin and Mr. Broadus went to the junction yesterday afternoon and went down to Shelbyville on the special I. & C. car and witnessed the demonstration of the Simmen signal system which is being tested out on eighteen miles of the Shelbyville division.

WATSON TO SIT IN CONVENTION

His Place as One of Four Delegates-at-Large From Indiana is Made Secure.

CONTESTANTS ARE DEFEATED

Many Rushville and Rush County
Men Will Attend Republican National Convention This Year.

James E. Watson of this city will sit in the Republican national convention, which meets in Chicago next Tuesday, as one of the four delegates-at-large from Indiana. The other three are Charles W. Fairbanks and Harry S. New of Indianapolis and Joseph D. Oliver of South Bend. They were elected in the regular State convention in Indianapolis by a majority of 105.

James E. Watson left last evening for Chicago to be on the ground early at the national convention where the gatherings of the clans is taking place this week. He was not present when the contest on his seat was heard by the national committee.

The Indiana contests were heard by the national committee yesterday afternoon. The followers of Theodore Roosevelt have contended all along that improper methods were employed to elect the four Taft delegates-at-large from Indiana. They had also filed contests against the Taft delegates elected at the regular conventions in the first, third, fourth and thirteenth Indiana districts.

Nevertheless the claims of the Roosevelt followers were not strong enough to convince even the Roosevelt members of the national committee and the vote to seat the Taft delegates that were contested in Indiana was unanimous with one exception. That exception was in the thirteenth district contest where the vote was 36 to 14 in favor of the Taft delegates.

Stories were circulated two weeks ago that the Taft men intended to trump up some charges against the Roosevelt delegates elected in two Indiana districts, the sixth being one of them, and file contests against them before the national committee. The stories proved to be false, however, as the Taft leaders were averse to such methods.

The gatherings of the Roosevelt men of Indiana at Chicago is scheduled for tomorrow. Verne Norris, clerk of the circuit court and former Republican county chairman, received a telegram from Senator Joseph Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager, a few days ago urging him to be in Chicago by tomorrow. He expects to be there by that time. It has since developed that similar telegrams were sent to Roosevelt leaders all over Indiana, and that a majority of them will go.

The convention this year will likely attract more Rushville and Rush county Republicans than ever before. A large number are planning to be on hands at the convention.

LEWISVILLE MARSHAL IN BAD

Cincinnati Attorney Claims he Paid
Town Official $5 for Alleged Speeding Decoration Day.

GOT $3 FROM ANOTHER PARTY

The Sum Paid Does Not Constitute a Legal Fine and Costs According to Prosecutor.

L. A. Kreis, an attorney of Cincinnati, has written a rather hot letter to Prosecutor Evans, demanding to know by what rule, right or authority, the marshal, Ed Nelson, at Lewisville, stopped him and took him before a justice of the peace, Lee Butler, and extracting or annexing the sum of $5 on an alleged charge of exceeding the speed limit on Decoration day evening, says the Newcastle Times. Kreis stated that he was not arrested on a warrant; that no affidavit was filed against him, and that anyway, the sum of $5 did not legally constitute a fine and costs.

It has developed that Butler and the marshal also taxed another automobile party, but only got $3. Kreis contends the proceedings amounted only to highway robbery, and he indicated in his letter that he will be here this week to prefer charges against the specified officers or officials.

It has been later brought out that the marshal collected the money and tried to turn it over to Mr. Bartlett, the town treasurer, but that he refused to accept the money on the grounds that there were no records in the case and that he could not legally accept it.

In discussing the matter, Prosecutor Evans stated that it was his belief and opinion that Butler's commission as a justice of the peace had expired, and that he was not an active limb of the law anymore. He further stated that he was not a party to the transaction in any manner, shape or form, and that he knew nothing of the occurrence until he received the letter from the Cincinnati attorney.

He has thrown out several lines of investigation and when the attorney who claims to have been held up for $5, arrives from the Queen City, considerable information regarding the case will be forthcoming and it is hinted that there will be an interest-aftermath.

DISPATCHER IS THE MAIN SPRING

NOW BEING TESTED ON I. & C.

City Officials and Newspaper Men
Shown Workings of Plan to Avert Accidents.

Officials and newspaper men of cities along the two divisions of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company's lines, as well as from cities located on the three proposed routes of extension of the lines to Cincinnati, were treated yesterday afternoon to an exhibition of the workings of a new train dispatching and signaling system which has been installed on eighteen miles of the I. & C. lines between the junction and Shelbyville and which is now being given a thorough test.

The party of men was shown first the operation of the recording apparatus in the dispatcher's office at the junction. It was explained by P. J. Simmen, the inventor of the system. He showed by actual operation—cars running at that time between Shelbyville and the junction were used for examples—how simple the system is, and how it is actually controlled by the dispatcher, so that he knows the exact location of every car on the road, and how he can stop any car at any block, which are four thousand feet apart, and give orders to the crew. The party was taken to Shelbyville so the work of the system on the car could be demonstrated.

It is in this important feature that the manually operated electric system excels the old automatic signaling system. In the case of the latter the dispatcher can do nothing more than stop a car at a block. He can not talk to the train crew and knows nothing of what is going on at the scene of the trouble. Under the Simmen system the dispatcher has every train crew within his call at every block. He knows the exact movement of every car on the road and can determine whether a motorman is running his car ahead of schedule, or whether he is tardy or spends too much time at any switch.

The Simmen system has many striking features. The principal apparatus is located in the dispatcher's office and consists of a recording apparatus, by which each train running over the road, automatically records its movements on a record sheet directly in front of the dispatcher, who can see at all times, exactly where every regular, extra or work train is located.

In addition to the recording apparatus, the dispatcher's desk contains an interlocked switchboard by which he can flash a visible and also sound an audible signal, within a few inches of the motorman's eyes and ears. There are two signal lights in the motorman's cab of each car, one green, the other red; the rule governing the motorman, consists simply of "go ahead when you have a green light" "stop and report to the dispatcher by telephone, when you get a red light."

The control of these signal lights on the car is accomplished in a very simple manner. A shoe on the car makes an electrical contact with short sections of third rails, about 70 ft. long, located along the track at the beginning of each block. These third rails are connected by wire (supported along the trolley poles) with the dispatcher's office. As long as the dispatcher closes the switches in his office and sends an electric current from a set of dry cells to the

CHEERS CUBAN ENVOY UP A BIT

No Thought of Intervention, Says Mr. Knox.

CUBA'S VIEW OF SITUATION

As the Special Representative of President Gomez, the Speaker of the Cuban House Came Over Here to Lay the Islanders' Side of the Case Before the State Department and is Given Friendly Assurances.

Washington, June 11.—White dispatches were being received at the state department of an attack by negro rebels on American marines and the warships Rhode Island and Washington were anchoring in Havana harbor, Secretary Knox was assuring the speaker of the Cuban house of representatives that the non-intervention policy of the United States remains unchanged. In conference with Oscar Ferrarra, speaker of the Cuban house, who has come here as the personal representative of President Gomez, Secretary Knox listened to a presentation of the Cuban view of the situation in that republic. Mr. Knox then declared that the United States is not now contemplating intervention in Cuba, but hopes and believes the Cuban government will be by prompt and vigorous measures able to suppress the outbreak. The troops were sent, the secretary said, to furnish means of safety and protection for Americans and other foreigners in the event of disturbances that might menace their safety.

Speaker Ferrarra said his mission in Washington was to lay the situation before the Washington government in the light in which it is viewed by the Cuban government. The speaker then sketched conditions in the island, drawing a much softer picture than has been presented to the state department through other channels. Beyond the declaration of policy by Mr. Knox, nothing definite resulted from the conference.

The report of an attack upon a company of marines at El Cuero was the most disturbing item in the gist from Cuba. There were no casualties, among the marines and the rebels were repulsed, according to dispatches received here. Only about 100 shots were fired. Startling as the fact that American arms have been attacked, the incident did not cause even a flutter when communicated to the state department. Not a word was vouchsafed indicating any opinion in official quarters that the incident called for any departure from the present policy of non-intervention.

COLLEGE BOYS NOT GOOD FARM HANDS

At Least That Is New York's Conclusion.

New York, June 11.—Seeking work as farm hands and helpers, college students, many of them graduates, have applied at the headquarters of the New York State Agricultural department. F. H. VanLeer, interpreter in charge, said that more than a hundred college students, representing Columbia, Yale, Harvard, Princeton and New York university, had called on him with the hope of finding work on farms in the state. Out of an army of applicants Mr. VanLeer only gave promise of work to ten.

"College men don't make good farmers," he remarked. "They come in here togged up for dances and expect me to hand them positions."

Mr. VanLeer said he first gave the college man his tryout as a farmer two years ago. There was a splendid chance to make $2 to 3 per day picking strawberries on an Ulster county farm, and twenty college youths, just fresh from the classroom, were shipped to fill the vacancy. Two days later they returned, and Mr. VanLeer received a letter from the distracted farmer saying that he found the men playing mandolins and swimming when they should have been working.

One student was asked by Mr. VanLeer how many cows he could milk in an hour.

"Oh, fifty or sixty," he replied.

Another man was asked what experience he had had. He said he had trained two goats on a western farm to dance and one of them could blow a horn.

CHINA WANTS HIM

A Fine Strenuous Job Suggested For the Colonel.

Cleveland, June 11.—"Roosevelt for China" is the slogan of the Young Chinese.

Quan Sing, Chinese interpreter in the Cleveland immigration office, is enthusiastic. He said his countrymen here will urge that the strenuous one be called to China to take control of the situation in case of his defeat at Chicago.

"I believe he would accept," Quan Sing said. "He is strenuous enough to handle the situation and the situation is strenuous enough to suit him."

"Wu Ting Fang, who will return to America shortly as ambassador, will put the matter up to him. I and my countrymen here hope he will accept. If we could make him president of the Chinese republic for a few years foreign aggression would cease. He is the man China needs."

Monkey Whips Five Dogs.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., June 11.—A dodging monkey, at which rubber balls are thrown, broke its chain that fastened it to a platform and escaped. After whipping five dogs, the monkey attacked Joe Grah, an animal trainer, who attempted to catch the animal, and bit him several times. An artery in his left wrist was severed by the animal's sharp teeth, and Grah nearly bled to death before the flow of blood was checked.

Indianapolis Situation Causes a Stirring Up.

PROSECUTOR TAKES ACTION

Following the Action of Judge of the Criminal Court in Causing the Books of Loan Agencies to Be Brought Before the Grand Jury, the Prosecutor Takes Steps to Relieve Oppressed Debtors.

Indianapolis, June 11.—In the crusade against usurious money lenders in Marion county, Frank P. Baker, county prosecutor, has evolved a plan that is meeting with success. Many victims of the loan sharks have appealed to the prosecutor in the last few days, and he has settled a number of accounts in short order.

The prosecutor ascertains how much the victim has paid to the loan company, and then directs him to go to the company and demand that the company give him a receipt in full. Mr. Baker writes his name on the pass-book or payment slip held by the borrower and directs him to return if the loan company fails to come to terms. Judge Markey of the criminal court, who began the fight against the loan shark, believes that it will take six months or more to rid the county of the evil. Judge Markey says that every person engaged in the chattel loan business who has charged more than the legal rate of interest will be indicted for petit or grand larceny as the case may be.

The grand jury now has in its possession the books and records of about twelve loan companies. Judge Markey says that after an insight into the methods of the loan companies has been obtained the patrons of these companies will be informed just how much they owe the loan companies under the law.

After the court and grand jury has looked after the victims, Judge Markey plans to write a bill which will be presented to the next legislature. Judge Markey hopes to provide a way by this bill so that a loan association may be formed that will make money and yet not be a burden on the people who are obliged to obtain small loans.

Natural gas produced in the United States now amounts to over five hundred billion feet annually.

D. C. PEYTON

Superintendent of Reformatory Reports on Case of John Fritts.

GOVERNOR RECEIVES REPORT OF PEYTON

Investigation Into the Case of John Fritts.

Indianapolis, June 11.—Superintendent D. C. Peyton of the state reformatory at Jeffersonville, has filed with the governor, at the governor's request, a history of the case of John Fritts, who recently killed a guard at the reformatory, and who has been sentenced to hang. Following the sentencing of Fritts, considerable publicity was given the case and some criticism directed against the reformatory because of the claim of Fritts that he was goaded to desperation because he was not paroled at the expiration of his minimum term.

Fritts was reported to be a young man of more than ordinary intelligence. He made good records in the reformatory school of letters. He was a member of the institution band for some time, until he was removed at the request of the director, who complained that he would not submit to the discipline demanded in the band. He was placed in the cabinet shop in June, 1908, and was there until he killed the guard.

Fritts was sentenced to be hanged in June, but a reprieve was granted by Governor Marshall until next January, pending a ruling on the case by the supreme court, where it has been appealed. Fritts's father is serving a life term in the state prison at Michigan City for murder. The father and son recently met at the prison for the first time since the father was sentenced, nearly fifteen years ago. Young Fritts was taken to the state prison to await his execution.

Profession Underpaid.

Popular opinion puts teachers in the leisure class. One often hears people say, "she's a teacher, so she has an easy time of it,—short hours, light work and good pay." Unfortunately, an investigation of the facts does not bear this out. Such an idea is held only by those who have not come into intimate contact with teachers, or by those who have but judged the work superficially.

In the first place, as to the short hours. Children are at school only from 8:15 to 3:45, it is true, but how many teachers pre in the school rooms soon after 7:30 a. m. making preparation for their work? Or if not then perhaps, they stay after school or carry home with them rolls

Eye Troubles

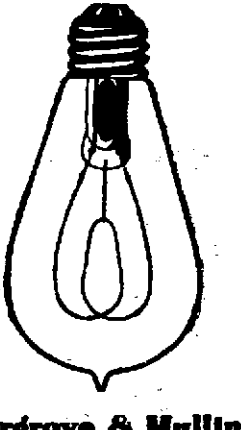

Brief spells of dizziness, pains in the brow and temples come from eyestrain. Glasses correctly fitted—perhaps just to wear while reading, studying, sewing, or other close work may be all that's required for permanent relief.

Taken in time the constant wearing of glasses is avoided. Delay means serious eye trouble later on, expensive and painful operation or the loss of vision.

of papers to be corrected and graded, and packages of books from which to prepare broader work. Ask the city janitors how many nights they close the school buildings at 5 o'clock without having to drive out reluctant teachers who are still hard at work. Besides those tasks which apply only to class room work, there are the teachers' meetings at least one evening in the week and in some buildings two, the endless averaging and grading, reports to parents and superintendent, writing up plan-books (outlines for six weeks, fuller ones for one week, definite assignments for each day) keeping registers, accounting for material and preparing it for the children's use.

There is no other salary or wage-earning occupation which at all compares with teaching in regard to its endless overtime work. Salesladies work from 8 to 6, stenographers from 8 to 4, 5, or 6, many plumbers and carpenters from 8 to 4, and every part of the work is done during hours. Carpenters file their saws and sharpen their tools during work hours, plumbers usually collect wages from the time they leave the shop.

Long hours admitted, it is still said that the teacher has a short working year; and people seem to suppose that 16 weeks of vacation is an unmixed good. To begin with, teachers work in vacation. Some of them work hardest then. An up-to-date teacher is supposed to go back to college or university at least every second year, and most students at summer school "load up" with twice the required work in order to save money and time. Moreover, it must be remembered that 16 weeks' vacation means 16 weeks without any salary at all, though board and rent bills must be paid all that time unless teachers wish to be dependent on their relatives. Nor are they paid so well during the school year that they can afford to be idle for 16 weeks, even though such a notion seems to be common among the people. Recent investigation shows that the best paid public school teachers in Rushville earn less than journeymen carpenters working on union scale; and that the average grade teacher's wages are actually less the average store clerk.

A comparison between the salesladies in our stores and the teachers in our schools would bring out some facts no less surprising than the foregoing. The old question of hours will at once come up. Teachers do not work on Saturday, to be sure, but people at large would be surprised how much of Saturday is put on reports and plans, and every evening in the week is a fair balance for Saturday. Moreover, when a clerk is through, he is through. No responsibility remains on his mind the next day no study of subject matter, no long patient questioning of how to meet individuals and give them the needed impulse towards better work and greater effort. The re-

Sam Sanderson Says:

Now that the State entomologist has explained what he is willing to do the dear public has a little light on the cause for such an office.

responsibility in the two occupations is not to be compared at all. Nor is the required preparation. There are women in the stores today who never finished high school who are earning more than some teachers who have had not only high school but college training in preparation and responsibility, salaries in the two occupations are surprisingly alike. Figures obtained from one of the best Rushville stores show that the average saleslady is paid $6 to $8 per week and in the case of those who have been in the employ for some time, salaries are $12 per week. Beginners, who have no education beyond the lower grades and are just past compulsory school age, are being paid $3 a week while learning their work.

It is worth while to note, in passing, that apprentices in the teaching profession are not paid while gaining experience. Taking the average saleslady's wage, $30 a month, do people generally know that there are many teachers in the Rushville schools who receive very little more than that and for nine months only? In other words, they must support themselves for the year and save money for more training on $150 less than is received during the year by the average saleslady.

Then look at the maximum wage! Sixty dollars a month means $720 a year: under the minimum wage law of Indiana which still holds in Rushville, no grade teacher in the public schools can possibly receive more than $630. Rather surprising figures, it would seem, for a community that justly prides itself on the rank of its schools.

Another thing must not be forgotten: A girl who works in that store, above mentioned, has 15 per cent discount on everything she buys. Think what it means to buy everything for dress or toilet for 85 per cent of what other people pay! This is a very material addition to income and still further increases the discrepancy between teachers' wages and those of salesladies.

The beef trust claims that the scarcity of cattle is the reason why meat is higher. If they were struggling to get an occasional hash dinner on $2 a day, perhaps they would find a few more cattle by looking real hard.

The Boston Globe says that if the King of Italy makes Andrew Carnegie a Count, the least he can do is to present him with a library. Perhaps the King, by these very means, is endeavoring to head Andrew off from doing this same thing.

If they throw rice at you on your honeymoon, sweep it up and serve rice pudding when you entertain your friends next time. Don't tell them about it until they say how good the pudding is.

The Baltimore convention may prove tame compared with Chicago, but it is not true that an old fashioned titbiting man has been appointed to go around and wake up the delegates every hour.

The graduate who has a paper on "Scientific dish washing" could make quite a human interest story about it, but probably she would rather discuss "The cosmic microcosm of the intangible entity."

While both sides are promising a square deal at Chicago, there is a general feeling that the dealers are well acquainted with the location of the joker.

Rioting among the employees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, but unrest is to be expected until the new bean crop is harvested.

Best by Test—FAIR PROMISE

Now that Rushville has once again settled down to the quite routine of a peaceful life with nothing more disturbing than the rumblings incident to the approach of a national convention about two hundred miles distant, we are seriously thinking of having the letters i, n, v, e, s, t, i, g, a, t, i, n, g on our typewriter repaired.

The Indiana league is putting up a better article of base ball than the big league, according to the Newcastle Courier, largely because Newcastle heads the league.

No offense meant but Rushville had some base ball team, too. And the other day one of the visitors, who said that he had a faint and remote idea that he once hung around Mike Donlin and some ginks in his class, broke up the game.

Not intending to infer, of course, that Rushville does not still have a base ball team. Connersville is warned to beware as follows:

Beware Connersville!
Sdifle, sdifle, liddle doze,
How we wudder how you are!
Every tibe that you she blows,
Does this doise dedote the ear?
We wouldn't give any paper credit for that if we didn't have to, but the Marion Chronicle deserves a little condemnation (we were afraid the lyntype might make that commendation) for such stuff at this inopportune time when so many are just now dopping it how they are going to escape hay fever this summer.

Most anyone can be an editor. All the editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days out of the week, four weeks of the month and twelve months of the year and "edit" such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry."
"A mischevious lad of Piketown threw a stone and struck Mr. Stone in the alley last Tuesday."
"John Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell striking himself on the back porch."
"While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green several times on the public square."
"Isaac Trimmer of Running Creek was playing with a cat when it scratched him on the veranda."
"Mr. Fong while harnessing a bronco last Saturday was kicked just south of his corn patch."

Editorial letters.

Now that Rushville has once again settled down to the quite routine of a peaceful life with nothing more disturbing than the rumblings incident to the approach of a national convention about two hundred miles distant, we are seriously thinking of having the letters i, n, v, e, s, t, i, g, a, t, i, n, g on our typewriter repaired.

The Indiana league is putting up a better article of base ball than the big league, according to the Newcastle Courier, largely because Newcastle heads the league.

No offense meant but Rushville had some base ball team, too. And the other day one of the visitors, who said that he had a faint and remote idea that he once hung around Mike Donlin and some ginks in his class, broke up the game.

Not intending to infer, of course, that Rushville does not still have a base ball team. Connersville is warned to beware as follows:

Beware Connersville!
Sdifle, sdifle, liddle doze,
How we wudder how you are!
Every tibe that you she blows,
Does this doise dedote the ear?
We wouldn't give any paper credit for that if we didn't have to, but the Marion Chronicle deserves a little condemnation (we were afraid the lyntype might make that commendation) for such stuff at this inopportune time when so many are just now dopping it how they are going to escape hay fever this summer.

Glenwood.

Rev. H. D. Sterrett preached a very appreciative sermon last Sunday on the text "I have somewhat to say to you Simon." The sermons the Glenwood people are getting are very practical and they are appreciating them. There was one addition to the church at the close of the sermon and a missionary collection of $54.00 was taken up and only two-thirds of the congregation was present. It will probably reach $75, which is more than our proportion. The M. E. S. S. under the leadership of Bro. Frank Scholl is growing in interest and in number. The collection was $3.54. One class gave nearly one-third of it.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Reynolds spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Lindale, east of town.

LET US SHOW YOU NO-RIM-CUT TIRES

You are undoubtedly convinced that you should use No-Rim-Cut tires. Every motorist has read about No-Rim-Cut tires again and again in the magazines and newspapers. You have read how the 10 per cent oversize and No-Rim-Cut features cut tire bills in two. You have wanted these tires. They are here now. Let us show you.

NO-RIM-CUT FEATURE
No-Rim-Cut tires have six tapes of 126 braided wires in the base, making the base absolutely unstretchable. Nothing can force the tire out of the rim channel. A hooked base is not necessary to hold the No-Rim-Cut tire on. The hooked side of the rings are turned away from the tire. Then the tire, when deflated, rests on the rounded side of the rings. Rim-Cutting is impossible.

GOOD YEAR
10 PER CENT OVERSIZE
When a car is overloaded the tires get that extra strain. That hastens breakdowns—means blowouts. No-Rim-Cut tires are made 10 per cent oversize to provide for overload. The construction allows that.

That oversize means 10 per cent more air—10 per cent more carrying capacity. That oversize saves all that overloading costs.

Consider these features and what they save the motorists.

No-Rim-Cut tires cost no more than standard clincher tires. Why shouldn't you adopt No-Rim-Cut tires? Come and see them and you will.

AMUSEMENTS

The new radium gold fibre screen installed at the Palace theater at a cost of over $200 was used for the first time last night. The screen reduces the light to a soft mellow glow and is a wonderful improvement over the old style screen. Pictures can be shown in daylight equally as well as at night. No dark spots reflect on the screen. Tonight the first picture is "The Indian Martyr," a Bison western drama. The other is an Imp drama "Love and the Serpent." It is said to be an exceptionally good Mexican picture. Miss Lucile Brandon will sing the spotlight song.

The Princess offers a Vitagraph, "She Never Knew," as the first film tonight. It is a thrilling picture telling a story of self sacrifice. The other is a Selig western, "With the Boys of the Figure Two." The picture is taken from life.

"Tigers' Claws" is the title of a Pathe drama, the first picture at the Portola tonight. The other is an Indian drama, "Brave Heart's Hidden Love." Both are good pictures.

SET DATE TO HEAR TWO COMPANIES

Commissioners May Have to Move Poles to Proceed Work on Lowden Road.

TO MEET AGAIN SATURDAY

The county commissioners will meet again Saturday to hear representatives of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company and the Arlington Telephone Company in regard to some poles that will have to be moved in Walker township so that the E. B. Lowden road may be built. The road is now being built, and it is understood that poles belonging to the two companies will have to be changed before long or the work can not proceed. The I. & C. high tension wires carrying power from the Rushville plant for the Shelbyville line pass through Walker township. The question in regard to the poles came up late yesterday at the commissioners' meeting and they went to Walker township to see the condition for themselves.

Yesterday the commissioners set July 6 for the Norman Apple road election in Orange township and continued the Gardner and Sullivan roads until July 15. According to plans presented to the commissioners yesterday afternoon the estimated cost of a new heating plant will be $4750. The plans of the contractors were not accepted and no action was taken by the board on this matter.

State Entomologist Stands Ready and Willing to Advise Concerning Plant Disease.

SAYS HE CAN PREVENT LOSS

C. H. Baldwin, State entomologist, has announced that his office is prepared to give advice on the insect problems of any district in the State. Information about injurious insects and plant diseases may be obtained by writing to him at the State House, Indianapolis. Specimens of the injury and its cause, together with a description of the conditions surrounding it, should always accompany a request for information.

The State entomologist does not guarantee methods for complete control of injurious insects and plant diseases in every case, but the amount of damage that can be prevented is very great. If the trouble seems serious enough an inspector will be sent to examine it in person and give advice on the ground. The entomologist has also expressed his willingness to identify as far as possible any rare or curious insects which may be found in the State provided, of course, that the specimens are sent to him. It is to be hoped that many people will take advantage of this opportunity to learn how to improve their fruit, take care of their trees, and remedy other troubles for which insects are responsible.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. BIGGEST PYTHIAN EVENT IN YEARS

General Gray of Covington Praised Uniform Rank Companies of 3d Regiment at Memorial.

LOCAL COMPANY REPRESENTED

Next Reunion Will be Held on the Second Sunday in June at Knightstown.

The next annual reunion of eleven companies of the third regiment of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will be held at Knightstown, a short distance north of here, and for that reason it is likely the Rushville company will be well represented.

Of this year's meeting, held at Wilkinson Sunday the Newcastle Courier says:

The annual memorial services of the third regiment, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias Sunday afternoon was the biggest event in recent years in Pythian circles and approached the climax of the brilliant career of the splendid regiment. Nine of the eleven companies of the organization participated in the exercises, which included the regimental review and parade.

A feature of the event was the appearance of the Richmond company with fifty swords in line. The company was commanded by Captain A. F. Ireton and made a splendid appearance. It was greeted with applause and cheers all along the line of march. In addition to Richmond, the following companies participated in the review: Newcastle, Connersville, Rushville, Hagerstown, Knightstown, Cambridge City, Mooreland and Wilkinson.

The regiment was formed into marching order at 1:30 o'clock in the center of town and headed by the Middletown band marched to Powers' grove, where the regimental review and inspection were held and the memorial address was delivered by Alfred Lykens of Indianapolis.

Following the address the regiment was reviewed by General Gray of Covington and his staff. The inspection was made by Colonel Shellhouse and staff of the first regiment. The review and appearance of the regiment elicited high praise from General Gray and the other visiting officers. The third regiment is the only one of the three Uniform Rank regiments in the State that has successfully carried out such an event.

The staff officers of the regiment include Col. Charles A. Phelps of Newcastle, Lieutenant-Colonel Dan C. Hill of Richmond, Sergeant-Major J. E. Hatt of Newcastle, Adjutant William Bock of Newcastle, Signal Officer W. S. McMahon of Richmond, Quartermaster Edward Stiggleman of Richmond, Commissary W. R. Walker of Wilkinson and Chaplain G. E. Muire of Rushville. E. P. Holmes, major of the first battalion and John Garriott, major of the second battalion, were also present.

BOY RAN AWAY FROM HOME

Clarksburg Youth Followed Father and Got Lost.

Dwight Ray, the nine-year-old son of Albert Ray of Clarksburg, who about three weeks ago ran away from home and was found only after a long search, repeated the stunt on Saturday night. Several hours after dark the little fellow was found several miles from home. He had followed the tracks made by a traction engine on which he supposed his father was riding.

After it became too dark to see the print of the wheels in the dust, the little fellow became lost but he kept on bravely until he finally saw a light in the window of a farm house.

BLOODY WORK OF A MURDEROUS MANIAC

Eight Persons Slain With an Ax in Iowa.

Villisca, Ia., June 11.—A prominent Villisca business man, Joseph Moore, his wife and four children and two women guests were found murdered in the Moore home. Their heads had been smashed and an ax covered with blood and hair was found.

The dead are: Joseph Moore and wife; Herman Moore, aged eleven; Catherine Moore, nine; Boyd Moore, seven; Paul Moore, six; Miss Edith Spillinger, twenty; Miss Blanche Spillinger, eighteen.

Owing to the terrible mutilation, the identity of the two young women could not at first be established. Later they were positively identified as the Spillinger sisters, daughters of a wealthy farmer living a few miles from Villisca, who had been in attendance at a church entertainment here.

A woman neighbor noticed that no member of the family appeared to be up. After failing to effect an entrance to the house, the city marshal was summoned and the doors forced.

Moore and his wife were the first to be discovered. They were lying in their bed in a front room. Then came the finding of the bodies of the two guests, and later those of the children in a third room. All were murdered in their beds. No robbery was committed, and it seems that only a desire for revenge could have prompted the murder, unless the work was done by a maniac.

TAFT WON OUT THREE TO ONE

Only One Ballot Taken in the Hoosier Contests.

SOLID DELEGATION FOR TAFT

Committee Was Not Divided on the Question of Seating the Delegates-at-Large for Mr. Taft, the Only Ballot Taken Being That on the Contest From the Thirteenth District, and Original 39 to 13 Line-Up Prevailed.

Chicago, June 11.—The twelve contested delegates from Indiana, including the four delegates-at-large, were awarded to President Taft and the twenty-six delegates from the state of California except two from the Fourth district, were assured to Roosevelt as a result of the work of the Republican national committee Monday. This makes eighty-four contested delegates so far decided in favor of President Taft by the national committee, as he secured forty-eight from this source on last Saturday and twenty-four on Friday.

The action of the national committee in the Indiana contests was a big victory for the Taft-New organization in that state. The Roosevelt people had been declaring all along that it would be a different story from that told in the southern states contests when the contests for the northern states came before the committee, especially Indiana.

Senator Dixon declared early in the day that the Roosevelt members in the committee would fight to the death on these Indiana cases. And yet when the question of seating the delegates-at-large from Indiana came up every

Mrs. M. A. McLaughlin, 512 Jay St., LaCrosse, Wis., writes that she suffered all kinds of pains in her back and hips on account of kidney trouble and rheumatism. "I got some Foley Kidney Pills and after taking them for a few days there was a wonderful change in my case, for the pain entirely left my back and hips and I am thankful there is such a medicine as Foley Kidney Pills." member of the committee voted in favor of the Taft-New delegates. Not only were the Taft delegates-at-large seated in Indiana, but the Roosevelt committee members permitted the seating by viva voce votes of the Taft delegates in the First district and the Taft delegates in the Third district, while in the Fourth district the Roosevelt contestants did not put in an appearance, and it was announced they had withdrawn. The only contest from Indiana which the Roosevelt committee found any merit in at all, was over the two delegates from the Thirteenth district, and in this instance the Taft delegates were seated by a vote of 36 to 13.

Bainbridge Colby opened the argument on the Indiana contests for the Roosevelt delegates-at-large, Albert J. Beveridge, Edwin M. Lee, Fred Landis and Charles H. Campbell.

Ex-Senator Hemenway of Boonville and Merrill Moores of Indianapolis, a classmate of President Taft at Yale, aided Charles Dick in defending the title of the Taft delegates to their seats in Indiana. These delegates are Charles W. Fairbanks, Harry S. New, James E. Watson and Joseph D. Oliver.

Senator Borah had been listening with patience while the Roosevelt attorneys presented their cases, when he remarked that if the president carried the Indianapolis primaries and all hands had a chance to vote, that the Taft people had a right to control the state convention, no matter what mistake the committee on credentials had made, and he finally came to the conclusion that the president had gained the primaries easily. For that reason he voted to seat the Taft delegates-at-large, despite the fact that the evidence showed that there was some fraud, but not anywhere near enough to hurt the Taft majorities.

TO OUR TRADE.

The general tendency throughout all branches of trade is to have a fixed established standard valuation upon various productions. The middleman offers the public a bona-fide service in purchasing goods of the manufacturer at the lowest possible prices and delivering them to the ultimate consumer at an advance which is in direct proportion to the value of the service rendered. The dealer's profit is a legitimate and necessary one; it must be borne by all people, and the middleman is justly entitled to the same.

We, herewith, quote a reasonable, just and proper set of prices, at which the products of the Jesse French & Sons Piano Factory should be sold. The dealer's profit at these prices is not in any way exorbitant. At the same time fair to the dealer as well as to the customer, and we STRONGLY URGE that all Kreil-French dealers use these prices with their trade, adding to them the freight to the point of delivery.

Weather Man Reviews Statistics For Indiana

Verne H. Church, local director of the United States weather bureau, has contributed a chapter to the forthcoming annual report of the State board of forestry in which he gives finding from the bureau's rainfall for a ten-year period. The chapter contains a number of charts in which the following points are set out graphically:

The annual average temperature for the entire state for the ten-year period ranged from 56 degrees in the vicinity of Mt. Vernon, Evansville and Boonville, to 48 degrees along the entire north edge of the state, including all of Steuben county. The temperature of the greater part of the state was from 51 to 55 degrees.

The average dates of the last killing frosts of spring, in ten years, ranged from April 7 in Posey, Gibson, Vanderburg, Pike, Daviess, Martin, Dubois, Spencer and Warrick counties, to May 5 in the extreme north part of St. Joseph county. The average date for the greater part of the state was April 28.

The average date of the first killing frost in autumn ranged from September 29 in Dekalb and Allen counties, to October 27 in Posey and Vanderburg counties. The average date for the greater part of the state is October 6.

The average monthly precipitation or rainfall, shows the heaviest fall in May, when it amounted to a little more than four inches. The lowest occurred in October, when it fell to about two and one-half inches. The rainfall chart for the state shows that observations for ten years prove the heaviest rainfall covered the south one-fourth part of the state, where the average annual rainfall was more than forty-two inches, except in a small territory including Gibson county and another including Scott county, where the average was from forty to forty-two inches. The lightest rainfall was in a small territory of which Dekalb county is the center, along the south shore of the Lake Michigan and along the Illinois line south to Vermillion county, and a small territory near Miami county. There the average was less than thirty-six inches. All average of from thirty-six to thirty-eight inches was recorded for the greater part of the state.

The average temperature for the entire state for the period from 1897 to 1910 ranged from a little more than 51 degrees in 1904 to about 53½ in 1908. For the period, the rainfall ranged from 49½ inches in 1890 to 31½ inches in 1901.

Mr. Church does not agree with a somewhat popular belief that reforestation will increase rainfall.

"It is only reasonable to believe," he sets out, "that the heavy growth of forests in regions of heavy rainfall and their absence in semi-arid regions is the effect, rather than the cause of such climatic conditions."

Mr. Church has also set out that statistics available do not bear out a contention made that the climatic conditions of the state are changing. On this point he wrote:

There is a popular belief that our climate is changing, but a study of all available statistics fails to bear out this opinion. There are short period variations in temperature and precipitation, and it is possible that there are similar long period oscillations. It is to be regretted that there are but few reliable records covering a long period of years. Those available show changes from year to year in the temperature and rainfall of the respective places, but there is nothing to indicate that a definite change in climate is actually taking place. They also show that, while the temperature and precipitation elements are above normal in certain years, there are other years when the same elements fall in varying amounts below normal. It is now conceded by scientists that if any long period changes are taking

DOGS BECOME A NUISANCE

Staten Island Made a Dumping Ground by Its Big Neighbor, New York City.

Staten Island, N. Y., is notorious as a refuge for stray dogs. The borough across the bay is overrun with homeless curs of all sizes, ages and descriptions, and the policemen are kept busy shooting them up to appease the fears of the nervous inhabitants. "Most of them come across on the boats," explained a cop stationed at the ferry house at St. George. "No, they aren't stowaways, neither do they work their passage over. They are brought over by people who don't want them, who have grown tired of their pets, or want to get rid of them for some reason, and instead of taking them to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals they bring them over here and turn them loose, knowing they will never find their way back."

"Once here they have to forage for their food, and become wild and dangerous. Often they form in packs like wolves, and then they realize the strength of numbers, and are absolutely fearless. I dare say there are more dogs on Staten Island than in all the rest of the boroughs put together."

third rail a train in passing will "pick up" a green light; and when the dispatcher opens any switch in his office, thus depriving the third rail of current, the car in passing will have its signal changed from green to red, and a bell is sounded as well to apprise the motorman to stop.

The present station consists of ten blocks. Each block is four thousand feet long, and in the center of each is a switch. A third rail is located at either end of the block, each two thousand feet from the switch, where another third rail is located. So that while passing through a block a motorman may receive as many as three signals from the dispatcher.

One strong feature of these signal lights is that they show continuously. The motorman always has either a green or a red light, every foot of the way. The whole theory of the system is that a motorman must have a green light before he can run.

An additional apparatus can be provided on the car by which the air brakes are automatically applied and the power shut off, should the motorman not obey a red light, and stop within the proper distance.

Thus it seems that the possibility of human error is entirely eliminated. This system, however, does not even stop here, but provides certain interlocking features within the dispatcher's switchboard, which prevents the dispatcher from giving a train a clear signal if another car has entered the block from the opposite end. Should he attempt to do so, he would find his switch locked in the danger position. Should a track switch be left open anywhere along the road, either by error or malicious intent, a car approaching it would receive a red light 2000 feet away. Furthermore, the dispatcher can open any switch with appliances in his office.

The movement of extra work trains, which experience has proven are responsible for the largest percent of collisions, are entirely and with absolute safety controlled and directed by the use of this system. Their presence on the road does not add the least risk. Another claim made for the system is that cars are more easily and promptly moved over the road, thus minimizing the annoyance of belated trains.

The mechanical devices are so arranged that it is mechanically and electrically impossible to bring two cars toward one another without an intervening red light. The motorman's instructions are to stop for orders at once whenever he gets the red signal. So the danger of head-on collisions are practically eliminated unless the motorman willfully disobeys orders.

The Simmen system has had the approval for test by the Block Signal & Train Control Board of the Interstate Commerce Commission, for some time, and recently both this board and the State Railroad Commission of Indiana, have made an official inspection of it. It is applicable for both electrical and steam roads and it is expected, by reason of its low first cost, and inexpensive maintenance, a much larger mileage will be protected by signals than would otherwise be possible.

The system is the invention of P. J. Simmen, an electrical and civil engineer of extensive railroad experience, and Northey-Plummer, Lt., of Indianapolis and Toronto, Canada, are the sole licensees for the United States.

Last fall the president of the I. & C., was one of the three railway executives to agree with the State Railroad Commission, to equip his line with a signal system, with a view of ascertaining which one would prove most suitable in practice for use on the interurban lines in the State of Indiana. After a thorough study of the question and a personal examination of this system in Canada, where it has been in use for some time, he decided to install what is known as the Simmen system of railway signalling and train dispatching.

A year ago this month the I. & C. installed an automatic block signal system at this division. It was put in by the United States Electric Company and was inspected by the State railroad commission and officers of other interurban lines in Indiana, but no expression was ever had from the State commission as to the advisability of using the system. Under its working the road was divided into blocks and the semaphore was used for signaling.

The party on the inspection trip yesterday included: Mayor B. A. Black, Councilmen C. H. Parsons, Alva Newhouse, O. C. Norris, George F. Moore, City Treasurer Garney Cohee, Joe Williamson, A. T. Mahin, John Kelly, and J. Feudner and Roy Harrod of the Daily Republican, all of Rushville; George B. Goodhart, city attorney, Mayor I. F. Brinkman, Councilmen W. J. Meade, Peter Strenger, William Appiarus and Walter Hartpence, editor of the News, all of Harrison, Ohio; James Caskey, editor of the News, J. W. Rucker, editor of the Graphic, Greensburg; Ora McDaniels, editor of the Morristown Sun; I. M. Bridgeman, editor of the Brookville American; L. L. Broadus, city attorney of Connersville; C. R. Greer, secretary of the Hamilton, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce; P. J. Simmen, the inventor, and Amos Baxter, Charles L. Henry, Charles O. Warfel, Will Frazee and Oscar Lively of the I. & C. The car was in charge of Kenneth Myers, motorman, and Mose Anderson, conductor, both of Shelbyville.

newspaper men and three traction officials, said that they did not care to pass through such an experience again.

Just before the traction car reached the incline at the foot of which the automobile stopped on the track, traction officials announced to the members of the inspection party that the car was approaching the fastest stretch of track on the whole I. & C. system and that the rate of travel down the hill would likely be as fast as seventy miles an hour.

President Charles L. Henry of the I. & C. complimented the motorman of the traction car for displaying so much presence of mind in the face of an accident that might have cost six lives.

LOCALS HOPE FOR REVENGE SUNDAY

Will Endeavor to Even up With Connersville For That 11 to 0 Defeat.

BEAT LIBERTY BY 2 TO 1 SCORE

The Connersville team—the one that defeated Rushville 11 to 0 a few weeks ago will be the attraction here Sunday. The locals are out for revenge and the fans can expect a fast game. It is generally admitted that Rushville will have to play ball to beat Cooley, the Connersville pitcher. In the first game Cooley let the locals down with one lone hit. Connersville defeated Liberty Sunday by a 2 to 1 score. The following from the Connersville News tells of the game.

The Connersville base ball club defeated Liberty yesterday afternoon at Liberty, after nine rounds of exciting play, by a score of 2 to 1. The contest developed into a pitcher's battle between Cooley for the locals and Vanderbolt for Liberty. The hits were about even, Connersville getting seven and Liberty eight but Cooley kept the hits off him well scattered. A running catch by second baseman Jarrell of the Connersville club and a circus catch by center fielder Theobald of Liberty, featured the game.

Next Sunday Connersville will play the Rushville team at Rushville and the latter will endeavor to even up for the 11 to 0 defeat recently handed them.
